OLTD 504 – Non- LMS Toolkit

OLTD Learning Outcome:

Critically assess and evaluate resources for best practice in online learning

Evidence Chosen to Support Outcome:

The evidence I chose to connect with the above learning outcome is my Non-LMS Toolkit. This project required to choose and evaluate a variety of online tools to build a customized LMS.

Reflection to Support Evidence:

Researching and developing this project was very engaging to me. The only difficulty I faced was not to know when to stop. This experience was empowering because it taught me that there are many options to suit not only my students but also my needs as a teacher.

Developing fluency and confidence to research and experiment with new tools is a fundamental skill to any teacher not only on the online or blended environments but also in the face to face context. The tools available not only serve the purpose of creating engaging lessons and facilitate learning, simplify assignments and manage information but also to simplify many of the tasks that we teachers spend countless hours on and more importantly to help us develop activities and strategies for, of and as learning.
